Robert Wyatt Crandall was adopted at the age of seven yeers by John and Nancy Astley, in 1861 he hear the cell to arms and enlisted as private in Co. F. 73rd. Ind Reg. Aug. 6, 1862 at Plymouth, Ind. He faught in several engegaments prncipally Stone River and Dey's Gap, at the latter place he received a shot that caused his arm to be amputated as he lay suffering from loss of blood two kind end nobla women of the South ministered to his wents for days caryin food to him in the woods, he was in Libby prison for e time end Richmond was tradad back to the Union arm ha wes mustered out July 28, 1863. Rank as corporal.

Before the war he was learning the trade of whealwright in Studebaker's factory at South Band. and boarded and roomed et the old home of Mr. and Mrs Studebaker. After the war ha was offared the position as guard for the large factory showing visitars about. He was put through a preparitory college after his discharga from the army by a friend indeadc after his discharge from the army by a friend indeed, Schuyler Colfax, who was afterwards gouverner of Ind. and also a member of Congress and while at Washington later on offered the lad a position as guard or door keeper at the National Capitol but he had other plans and when Kansas took on prohibition he and his family decided to come to the State arriving here in 1878 On his first trip out here he walked from Peabody to Newton.

Mr.Crandall lost heavily in the boom days but kept his home northwest of the city which was a beautiful place and pride of the town, with his fish ponds and ornamental trees shrubbery Etc. here he carried on vegetable and fruit gardening together with the nursery business. He raised a large family and gave them education Etc. but when they made homes for themselves and his good wife left this life in 1912 he sold the home and moved to town. His nursery business however went on as his namesake Robert Jr. and brother C.E. carried the work on and have also made a success of it.

Robert W.Crandall and his boys probably planted over one-half of the trees in and about the city and also at the cemetery, As a horticulturist he was known over the state and locally and was a lover of plants, flowers and trees. He introduced to this state and horticultural society, The Crandall or Kan. black current and in later years introduced a yellow or golden prolific current. Besides other novelties.

Mr.Crandall was gentleman and a christian, he and his wife bringing all of their children in that faith. He with his wife joined the first Methodist Church upon arriving in Kansas and lived the life ever afterwards as Christians and church members. He was in public life a member of the school board from fourth ward for years. Also acted as Newton Twp.clerk for years, being elected annually. He had a record of holding an office in Harvey Co. longer than any other man. R.W.Crandall was the youngest of nine children, Having three Bros. and five sisters.

NOTE-;

Mrs. Lou M. Small, for over sixty years a member of Turner, Oregon Methodist Episcopal Church where Rev. Crandall once officiated as its pastor, sent the compiler the Oct. 24, 1935 issue of the Turner Tribune which contained the article about Reverend Crandall who composed the song "Home On The Range" or as he chose the title "Western Home". He came to Turner with his large family in 1904 to preach. Mr. Crandall when a young man was spending his vacation in the wheat fields of the Solomon River Valley of Western Kansas, and with his companion was in great demand to sing at the Literary society in that community. Mr. Crandall decided to sing something original so while in the wheat field sat down and with his young companion started composing the words while his companion whistled out the air, thus was born a song which was destined to sweep the country as one of its most popular songs.

Quoting from the Turner Tribune, they sang it many times and it soon began popular. The music was never written down and the tune now sung is slightly different from the one the young Kansas boy created. Just as the ballads of the middle ages were carried from one country to another by wandering troubadours with each person who heard it changing a word or a note to suit himself so did "Home On The Range" grow from the original.

Rev. Mr. Crandall preserved the original manuscript of the words until two years ago last winter when he sang the song from the manuscript at a meeting at the First Methodist Episcopal church in Eugene. The manuscript was misplaced that night and has never been returned, although he advertised several times for its return.

Mr. Crandall did not write the words of this famous song as a "cowboy" number, and it was greatly distressing to him, according to his family, to hear it termed a cowboy song. It was written praising the Solomon valley country in western Kansas as a homeland. It is the last two lines of the original song, "That I would not exchange my home here to range above the clouds in the azure so bright" the part "My home here to range" was changed through the process of passing around the country from mouth to mouth, has become "I would not exchange my home on the range" Thus it became associated with the western cattle country and became accepted as a cowboy song.

The song as it now appears in song books is listed as author unknown. Last winter the Crandall family in Springfield was visited by Samuel Moanfeldt, counselor-at-law of New York City, representing the Publishers Protective Association of New York, who is making an effort to clear up the authorship of the beloved piece. His facts which he gleaned from old residents in the middle west coincide with the details as given by the Crandall family in Springfield. The Crandalls are now awaiting word from the lawyer concerning his findings and to report on the definite acknowledgment of Rev. Mr. Crandall as the author.

According to Mr. Moanfeldt, said Claud Crandall, one of the sons, the song has become "public property" and in the event that Mr. Crandall is credited with the authorship no royalties will go to the family because the lapse of time since its composition. The family is particularly interested in having it definitely established that Rev. Mr. Crandall is the author. In addition to the song that was destined to sweep the country as a song listed in the repertoire of opera singers on down through third rate vaudeville singers as one of the country's most popular songs. Rev. Mr. Crandall composed a number of poems, many of which is set to music. He is the author of "Z, a boy" which was published in 1905. written by Rev. Charles E. Crandall an early day Turner M.E. pastor.

Rev. Crandall lived, while here, in the house now occupied by Carl Duncan, which at that time was the Methodist church parsonage.

Rev. Crandall, with members of his family, visited here several times, at intervals in the past thirty years, the last time some six or seven years ago when he spoke on astronomy. He was, on that occasion accompanied by several of his family who took care of the musical part of the program. Next week the Tribune will publish the song as written by Mr. Crandall.

"This week the Tribune publishes as announced, the original words of the song "Home on The Range" as written by Rev. Mr. Crandall, including his chosen title for the song"

"WESTERN HOME"

Oh give me a home, where the buffalo roam,
Where the deer and the antelope play,
Where seldom is heard a discouraging word
And the sky is not clouded all day.

Chorus-A home, a home, where the deer and the antelope roam,

Where seldom is heard a discouraging word
And the sky is not clouded all day.

Oh give me the land where the bright diamond send Throws its light from the glistening stream,
Where glideth along the graceful white swan
Like a maid in a heavenly dream.

Oh give me the gale of the Solomon's vale
Where light streams with buoyant flow;
Or the banks of the Beaver, where seldom if ever
Any poisonous herbage doth grow.

I love the wild flowers, in this bright land of ours,
I love too the wild curlew's scream,
The bluffs of white rocks and the antelope flocks
That graze on our mountain so green.

How often at night, when the heavens are bright,
By the light of the pure twinkling stars,
Have I stood here amazed, and asked as I gazed
If their glory exceeds that of ours.

Oh, the air is so pure, and the breezes so free,
The zephyrs so balmy and light
That I would not exchange my home here to range
Above the clouds in the azure so bright.

WILLIAM H. CRANDALL

HORACE I. CRANDALL

Crandall Carries On in Dry Dock Construction

Family Has Been Leader in Field for More Than 100 Years

Beginning about 1820, William Hazard Crandall was operating a shipyard in Newport, Rhode Island, where he installed two marine railways that proved so successful that he was retained by other shipyards to design and install marine railways for them. In 1864, during the hey-day of the clipper ships, he was engaged by a group of Boston men, headed by Samuel Hall, to install a marine railway at East Boston to be of the then unprecedented capacity of 1200 tons, larger than any dry dock then in Boston except the Stone Dock at the Navy Yard. One of his sons, Horace Irving Crandall, who was put in charge of construction, persuaded the principals to incorporate several novel features which resulted in a marked improvement in construction and efficiency, thus creating the first railway dry dock. This railway dry dock is operating today in the Atlantic Works Yard of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, after 82 years of service.

In 1888, Horace I. took into partnership his son, James L. Crandall, who later became the head of the concern. Under his guidance, progress continued which, with increasing size of vessels, necessitated more careful engineering and greater refinement in design. During this period, attention was given to the investigation and design of floating dry docks resulting in the invention of an entirely new type and better and more economical construction, due to careful engineering analysis.

During the period since 1864, over 200 railway dry docks designed for private concerns in the United States, Canada and abroad, and for the Governments of the United States, Belgium, Canada, Colombia, France and Venezuela. Today, J. Stuart Crandall of the fourth generation, is carrying on the family tradition as President and Chief Engineer of Crandall Dry Dock Engineers, Inc., Cambridge, with a thoroughly experienced personnel and trained technical staff. During the war, this company designed and installed many railway dry docks, floating dry docks, shipyards for the Governments of the United Nations. These and those previously installed were intensively used in dry docking and repairing war damaged vessels at home and abroad with conspicuous success.

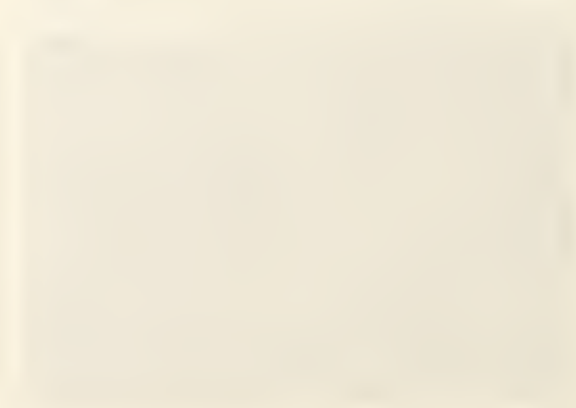

Present activities include repairing two railway dry docks previously constructed at Ostende, Belgium, which were damaged by allied bombing and German destruction, the construction of a 1600 ton railway dry dock for the French Government in Dordrecht, Holland to accommodate Rhine barges. Here, the fifth generation, Paul S. Crandall, is acting as assistant engineer after three years overseas in the Army as Captain in the Corps of Engineers.

Thus the tradition carries on, tempered with constant alertness for the new developments in applied science and its adaptation, conforming to the watchword — "Progress — the Result of Never Being Satisfied."

NOTE: The following is from a letter written by Dr. Crandall to Elwin Gerry Davis of North Providence, R.I. (Crandall records compiler):

"In 1838 I was obliged to quit work because of impaired health, bargained to pay father fifty dollars per year until twenty-one. Taught village school four months in winter and attended Homer Academy, spring and fall terms. Three years of this kind of work did not improve my health.
Bleeding from lungs and cough. Shipped aboard a fifty-ton smack in Spring of 1841 for Nantucket.
Was put ashore at Old Town because the kind hearted fishermen did not like to bury me at sea.
Returned to grandfather's in Pittstown much improved. In September shipped to Charlestown, S.C.; spent the winter delightfully in a slab school house teaching a select school. Returned to Cortland, N.Y. in June and entered the office of Drs. Goodyear and Hyde to read medicine. Returned South in September to the same place about 40 miles south of the capitol of the state where I spent the second winter. Read two years in Cortland; attended a course of lectures in Geneva, N.Y. My third year of study was in the office of Drs.
Eastman and Arnold of Owego, N.Y. where I was admitted to practice by board of censors under their license. Opened office in Waverly in 1844; married 28 May 1849 in Flint, Mich. to Mrs. Louise Curtis (maiden name Cushman of Plymouth Rock noterity). In 1858 on moving west, took a diploma from medical college, Keokuk, Iowa. Have been in active medical and surgical practice here twenty-seven years and twenty years in Tioga Co. N.Y. and am still enjoying pretty sound health and my opportunities for relieving suffering as well as benefitting myself. Residence LaPorte, Ind."

2286 ADELAIDE CRANDALL,⁸ of East Homer, N.Y., dau. of William Henry Harrison and Jane (Marx)

Crandall, b. East Homer 19 July 1847; m. George Green, buried at Chenango, N.Y.

Note: The compiler called on Mrs. Addie (Crandall) Green when she was confined to the Cortland Co. Home with a broken hip, and found she had a very keen mind, although she was well over 90 years old. She told exactly where the family burial ground was located on East Homer Hill. The writer inquired in Homer and East Homer but not even the oldest residents could recall any such burial lot, so gave up the search. Three years later, the caretaker, while searching the cemetery at Homer, told of seeing an old burial ground which contained several Crandall markers and gave the location. After some searching, the plot was located back from the road and there he found the markers of the first three sons of James and Dorcas Harvey. Addie also gave much valuable information which has been proven to be correct, although the attendants at the home advised that she was out of her head and that I could not depend upon a thing she said. Addie was a school teacher in her youth.

four generations The writer will not attempt here to enumerate the story about the founding of the Ashaway Line and Twine Company but will refer to that wonderful book by Mary Agnes Best, entitled "The Town That Saved A State, Westerly." This book is especially interesting to the Crandalls as Westerly was the town where Eld. John Crandall was its first Baptist preacher and many of the Cran-dalls and their allied families are mentioned, published by The Utter Company, of West-

Rev. WILLIAM SYLVESTER CRANDALL was born in Norwich, N.Y. July 15, 1878. His father William B. was at that time sixty-two years old and the father of thirteen other children and thirteen grand children all living.
The mother of William Sylvester was a great grand daughter of Aaron Stearns who served during the entire seven years of the Revolutionary struggle. Aaron was the Great great grand son of Isaac Stearns born 1600.
He came to America with Governor Winthrop and together with other noted Puritans helped to found the Massachusetts Bay Colony.
This line joined the Coolege line in the marriage of John Stearns, father of Aaron and Anna Coolege (Dau. of Deacon John Coolege, paternal ancestor of former president Calvin Coolidge. John Stearns, grand father of Aaron married Abigail Fiske, whose generations date back thru Lord Lyman Fiske to Daniel Fiske who in the eighth year of the reign of King John 1208 resided in Lax-field, England.

William Sylvester Crandall thru his mother's grandmother Abigail Olds, traces a direct ancestry back to the records of the "Domesday Books" compiled in 1086 by order of William The Conqueror. Lord John Churchill first duke of Marlborough was of this line, also Sir John Talbott, famous in the battle of Orleans, and immortalized by Shakespear.

The subject of this sketch was ordained to the Methodist Ministry in the Wyoming Conference in 1904. Several of the outstanding churches have been served by him. His longest pastorate was at the Boulevard Church, Binghamton, N.Y. where during his nineteen years more than twenty three hundred were received into membership. The years of his ministry have been blessed with the spirit of evangelism. He was honored in 1931 in being appointed, by the Bishop, as a delegate to the Sixth Ecumenical Conference in Atlanta, Ga. In 1932. he was elected to the general conference which met in Atlantic City.

The major portion of his advanced education was obtained in the University of Denver and the Iliff School of Theology in Denver, Colo. The degrees of A.B. and Ph.D.

were earned while the honorary degree of D. D. was conferred upon him by Asbury College in Kentucky.

On the 14th of August 1901 William S. married Electa May Bradshaw who was the third of five children of Rev. John and Isabelle Bradshaw. Dr. Bradshaw was a minister of prominence in the Wyoming Conference. Electa May was born Aug. 17, 1878. she died Oct. 25, 1911. on the 7th of November 1912. William married Mattie K. Horning, born Aug. 6, 1880 she was the oldest of two daughters born to Lewis L. and Amanda Horning of Dallas, Pa. the second daughter Bessie married Dr. William E. Sprou, a dentist in Kingston, Pa.

Mrs. Perrin's cousin, Noah Cummings, on the Ransom side, lived in New York City and who died in 1939. He being a lawyer and after being told that Mrs. Miranda (Crandall) (Betterley) Clark, had often heard her mother tell her children that they were Desc.
of the Princess Elizabeth Drake, and had the blood of English Kings, investigated the story only to find that Princess Elizabeth Drake, Dau. of Robert Drake and Gr.
Dau. of John Drake and Amy Greenville married Sir John Crandall parents of Eld.
John Crandall immigrant ancestor of all by the name in America. In looking at the records in the "Book of Adam" by Harold King Bowen, we can easily connect this Elizabeth Drake with that name in the Book and from this we can trace the Crandalls thru the generations back to Adam and Eve.

3048. CHARLES EDWARD CRANDALL(Bro. of #3047); Of-Laport,Minn. b Ontario,Wayne Co.N.Y. Mar.8,1859. m Sept.20,1881.IDA MAY COPE b Cary, B.C. Can.June 9, 1859 d Feb.5,1915 Laporte,Minn. Dau of Samuel and Julia (Thomas) Cope. Mr. Crandall was a civil engineer and architect. The writer met Mr. Crandall in Cortland, N.Y. while he was staying with his daughter Mrs. Mead on Sand St. Mr. Crandall died July 15, 1946 at Dryden, N.Y. and was buried there.

Following the death of Erastus M. Crandall, the family moved to Rockford, Ill. from Briston, Wisc. In Rockford the three sons were educated, having had to work their way thru school and college. Charles Edward received his degree as architect and civil engineer.

The three brothers Fremont, Charles and John, all took up claims for homsteading in Huron S. Dak. and built their claim shanties on adjoining corners of their claims. The three brothers went into partnership in Huron operating a carpenter and tin smith ship. In 1890 they dissolved partnership. Fremont went to Alaska, S. D., John bought a farm out of Enderlin, N.D. and Charles Edward went to Fort Totten, N. Dak. which place had been established and soldiers quartered there to for protection against the Indians. When peace was restored the garrison was disbanded and the Govt. took over all of the buildings and opened an industrial school for the Indians of the surrounding "Cut-head Sioux" Reservation. Charles E. received an appointment from the Govt. Engineer, he had charge of maintenance of the present fort buildings and added more new ones such as, water-works and tower, bakery, harness shop, tailor shop (in which all male students uniforms were made). After several years of successful management of the affairs at Ft. Totten he resigned and went to Devils Lake, N.Dak. where he set up an office of architect and engineer in 1896. In 1897 he moved his office to Grand Forks, N.D. After a serious illness in 1901 he decided to give up office work and moved to LaPorte, Minn where he entered a general store in company with his brother John W. who had sold his farm at Enderlin. Soon a Baptist church was organized, to be assured of a good location and an edifice of which the town could be proud, Charles E. donated a slightly corner location, drew the plans and superintended the building of the new place of worship, both the families of John W. and Charles E. were charter-members of the newly formed Baptist church. Fremont, after his lengthy sojourn in the west and Alaska, rejoined Charles as a partner vacated by John who had sold out and moved to Richmond, Va.

Raymond Utter, b Oct. 24, 1892.

Clipping from a Westerly, R.I. newspaper states- "Howard Stillman Crandall, aged 56 years who died yesterday afternoon at his home 20 Chestnut St. was one of Westerly's well known citizens and business men and was also widely known as a genealogist. He had been in ill health for the past few years but was planning a three month auto trip when he was taken with a slight shock. He was born in Galesburg, Ill. on July 28, 1868, the son of Amasa and Amelia (Wilcox) Crandall. He came to Westerly when a boy and had been a resident here for many years. He was a licensed electrician and held many important positions in this field of work. For a time he conducted a store for electrical supplies at the corner of Union and Broad Streets and for the past few years he has had a shop on Rocket St. He received his electrical training at the plant of General Electric Co. Schenectady, N.Y. and later worked for the Westinghouse Co. at Pittsburg. He also spent several years as superintendant of the armature spool and insulating Dept. of the Canadian Electric Co. Mr. Crandall was deeply interested in genealogy and was compiling the Crandall genealogy at the time of his death. The work was practically completed and the book was soon to be published. Besides his wife Caroline (Brewer) Crandall, he is survived by a son Raymond Utter of Providence & three grand children."

(Author's Note) Following the death of Howard S. Crandall, his vast collection of data resulting from thirty years of untiring efforts and the expenditure of thousands of dollars, was reported deliberately burned by a member of the family.

 ERNEST LINDELL CRANDALL, son of Albert H. and Ruth (Rathbun) Crandall, born in Hancock, Mass. and educated in the schools of Pittsfield and later Williams College. After completing his college course he taught at Drury Academy, North Adams and at Williams. He studied for the stage at Florence, Italy and after a short stage career he entered the study of Law at New York University. He practiced law for ten years before returning to his profession which at first had attracted him, teaching. For about twenty-five years he was associated with the public school system of New York City. He was in turn head of the Eastern District High School and the Harlem evening High School and head of the French and German Departments of the Washington Irving High School, before his appointment in December 1923 as director of Public Lecture and Visual instruction in the Department of Education. Mr. Crandall was a former president of the Teachers Federation Association and of the National Visual Instruction of America. He was the author of many text books. He died in Punta Gorda, Fla. in 1933. (See April, 1933 issue of Williams College Alumni).

The writer visited Mr. Crandall, found him physically feeble but when talking of events of years ago his memory appeared to be keen and he could tell many valuable things that happened when he was a young man. For instance, he said that Hosea Crandall was his uncle and that his son "Jack" (Andrew Jackson) was his first cousin also that he helped him when he remodeled the Old Ways Tavern in Binghamton, when Jack married Eliza Way.

Mr. Crandall was a school teacher, specializing in music, he was drafted in the world war in 1918 but spent most of his time serving in the 128th Infantry Band which played to welcome President Woodrow Wilson as he entered Paris to sign the armistice. In later years his leg was broken while playing base ball. His leg had to be broken three times after being first set and he nearly lost his life, but finally saved the leg and is well except a slight limp. In 1938 he retired as a school teacher and now, 1941, gives special music lessons, composes orchestra and choir music. He conducts three choirs at Snowflake, Ariz. also conducts ladies as well as men choirs and training classes for choiresters and organists through the Snowflake district. His wife is Superintendent in the primary school.

res-Cortland, NY. Asst. production Mgr. for Brockway Motors.

William G. Crandall Sr. began his wage earning career as a school teacher in Union Valley, Cortland Co. N.Y.
and later completed a subiness course in Binghamton, N.Y. and later took courses under University professors in Psychology and public speaking. After working as cashier and bookkeeper in the Cortland Fair Store, he opened in 1895 a branch store in Homer, N.Y. and since has remained a resident of that village. He later acquired a partnership in the parent Cortland Fair Store thus being a pioneer in the Chain Stores. Owing to the illness of his father, a well known auctioneer, he took up his father's profession, which he carried on with great success and was said to be one of the most popular auctioneers in that section of the state.
Mr. Crandall holds many important positions in his community, having been elected several times Mayor of Homer. On the managing boards of the Cortland Ct.
Hospital, the Cortland Y.M.C.A., the Homer home for aged women, the Library, the Baptist Church, the National Bank of his home town also the Cortland Dime Savings and Loan Association and the Cortland Rotary Club not to mention posts of responsibility in the Masons and Reality Association.

COUNTY MOURNS PASSING SEPT. 4 OF S. L. CRANDALL

#4002. —

Impressive and well attended funeral services were held at four o'clock Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 8, at the Layton ward church for Stanley LeRoy Crandall, who died Friday afternoon, Sept. 4, at his home in Safford, following a four day illness that confined him to his bed. He had been in failing health for some time past.

Opening the service, which were under the direction of Bishop S. L. Owens of the Safford ward, L. D. S. church, the Safford choir sang "Lead Kindly Light," and Pres. H. L. Payne offered the invocation. Choir continued with "Have I Done Any Good In The World Today?"

Bishop Angus Maloy gave the historical sketch of the deceased and spoke briefly along the theme "Stan was a 'Friend to Man,'" and mentioned that the hundreds attending the services attested to the high esteem in which he was held by his community and surrounding territory.

Pres. J. Harold Mitchell of the Mount Graham stake presidency paid high tribute to the Crandall family, pointing out that during the 19 years he had known them, he had taught all six children in the Safford high school; and without exception they had been fine students, and made fine men and women, which accomplishment in itself was sufficient to mark him as a success.

After lauding his public spirit and progressiveness throughout life, Mitchell touched on the topic of life after death, and proposed that time and faith would comfort and solace the family.

Lynn Hansen, accompanied by Mrs. Hansen, sang "Danny Boy," and was followed by President Spencer Kimball of Mount Graham stake, who read many tributes to Stan by his multitude of friends, and then personally eulogized his family, for its public services, for their musical ability, and then discussed immortality, the resurrection, and value of a Christian belief.

A male quartet composed of Kimball, Mitchell, Evan Masden, and Glenn Kempton sang "Going Home," after which the benediction was pronounced by Bishop Martin Tate.

S. L. Crandall was born in Vernal, Utah, July 31, 1890, the youngest in a family of nine children of Hyrum Oscar and Harriet Guyman Crandall. When less than one year of age he left his Utah home with the family which started for Mexico, but stopped in Deming, New Mexico, for two years, after which they moved to Safford, settling on property in Layton, now part of the Lawrence Fuller farm.

He received his education in the public schools of Safford, and worked at the Thatcher Drug Store for the late Dr. W. E. Platt. Later he went to Los Angeles, Calif., to further his education, returning the following year and entered the employ of Amos Cook in the drug business.

On April 14, 1910 he married Elizabeth Claridge, daughter of Hyrum and Susie Claridge. To this union was born four sons and two daughters, all living and in attendance at the funeral services Tuesday. They are, Clarence LeRoy, Washington, D. C.; Earle Claridge, Tucson; Stanley Burdette, Safford; Lyle Quinton, U. S. Navy; Mrs. Paul Smith, Lynwood, Calif.; and Kathleen Joy, Safford.

During his business career, he had served on the Safford Voluntary Fire Department, and became its chief; was a life-long member of the Graham county chamber of commerce, serving as its president for several terms, and a member of the board of directors for many years.

As a member of Safford Rotary Club for nearly 15 years, he was a member of its board of directors at the time of his death, and was a past member of the Safford B. P. O. E. Lodge No. 1607, which conducted graveside rites, following dedication of the grave by Charles Safford.

Bruce Verne Crandall

Bruce Verne Crandall, son of Lathan Augustus and Mary(Nichols)Crandall was born October 16,1873 in Hillsdale, Mich. in the little town where his father was studying at Hillsdale College. Son(and grandson) of Baptist ministers, he lived in a number of different towns and cities in New York and Ohio during his father's several pastorates.
Following his father's acceptance of the pastorate of the Euclid Avenue Baptist Church of Cleveland,Ohio the family moved to that city where he studied at Western Reserve College in 1891-1892. After the death of his mother he left college and began his business career in Chicago where the family has moved in 1892. He began as an office boy with Franklin MacVeagh and Co. He was employed with the "Railway Review" from 1896 to 1900 and the "Railway Master Mechanic" from 1900 to 1908.

On December 8,1898 he married Minnie Belle Smith, daughter of Willard Adelbert and Maria(Dickinson)Smith. To them were born four children,Bruce Nichols,Willard Smith, Mary Elysabeth and Margaret Louise. In 1906 he moved with his family to the Chicago suburb of Kenilworth where he built a home and was an active participant in the town affairs, helping organize the Kenilworth Club, serving as a member of the school board and in other capacities. In 1907 he joined the Three Lakes Rod and Gun Club at Three Lakes, Wisconsin where he owned a home and spent his summers for nearly forty years.

He was president of his own business,the Bruce V.Crandall Service,Inc. from 1908 to 1922. Subsequently he was editor of "Iron Trail",1921-22; editor of the Northwestern Railway System Magazine,1922-24; and editor and owner of the "Railway Review",1924-26.
Following his retirement in 1926 he and his family moved to Laguna Beach,California where he continued to interest himself in many enterprises and was associate editor of the South Coast News, Laguna Beach,Calif.
1930-31 & chairman of the Greater Orange County Committee(Calif.) in 1931.

In

In 1934 he began spending his winters in Florida where he was editor of the Venice-Nokomis News, Venice, Fla. in 1938-39 and was active in newspaper work for Florida and also Wisconsin newspapers, making up the annual vacation issues of numerous newspapers in the tourist sections of the two states. Continued ill health forced him to limit his activities and from 1941 until his death on November 19, 1945 he was engaged in genealogical work at the home of his sons in Silver Spring, Maryland. He was organizer and president of the Descendents of First Families in America and Secretary of the John Crandall Society, the Thomas Nichols Society and the George Mount Society.

He was Secretary-treasurer of the Western Railway Club, 1920-27; secretary of the Veteran's Association of the Chicago and North Western 1924-27 and author of numerous books including the Autocrat at the Lunch Table, 1915; Carmen's Helper, 1917; Locomotive Terminal Cost Data, 1919; After Forty Years, 1925; Railroadng on the Rails and Off, 1927; Reveries of an Editor, 1932 and Is This the Armageddon?, 1942.

The John Crandall Society

The first annual convention of the Descendents of First Families in America was held at the Venice-Myakka Hotel in Venice, Florida on January 26, 27 and 28 in the year 1939. Among the members present was a group of descendents of Elder John Crandall who arrived in Boston about 1634 and settled in the Providence Plantation where he was associated with Roger Williams and became one of the leaders in the affairs of the Rhode Island colony.

It was decided at a meeting of this group at the convention to organize a John Crandall Society for the purpose of compiling and preserving the records and genealogies of the descendents of Elder John Crandall. The Society was formed and elected as officers: John C. Crandall, New Woodstock, N.Y., president; Mary Elysabeth Crandall Venice, Fla., secretary; as members of the executive committee: A. Julian Crandall, Ashaway, R.I.; Mrs. Elma Burdick Rogers, Plainfield N.J.; Bruce V. Crandall, Venice, Fla.

Froved Dec. 2nd. A.D. 1616.

Fifty years after the death of William Crandall, the quarter gunner, our surname again appeared in records which survive to this day. In the returns of the Collectors of the hearth tax in 1666, the year of the great fire in "The parish or precinct of Trinity in the Minories" a Dorothy Crandall was given "one alm" in "the little Minories precinct." The Little Minories were close to the Tower of London and the River Thames at the entrance to the St. Katherine Docks. This Dorothy Crandall lived in a very humble house with only one hearth, and it is possible that she was the widow of a son or nephew of William Crandall. As her place of residence indicates that her husband was a sailor. The fact that William Crandall, the quarter-gunner, left a legacy to the poor of Penterry is alone almost certain proof that he was born there. It was usual for testators to leave money to the poor of their native village.

William Crandall may have lived at the town of Bristol, a few miles across the River Severn, when in England between voyages.

The Parish of Penterry lies practically in the shadow of Tintern Abby, which is a short distance north of the seacoast town of Chepstow and within a few miles of Newport and Bristol. There are no parish registers of Penterry in existence for earlier than 1721, Monmouthshire is a maritime county in West England the coast districts are low, protected by seawalls, the scenery is beautiful and varied enhanced by numerous Roman Antiquities and the feudal remains of Raglan, Caldecot and Chepstow castles, and Llanthony and Tintern Abbies. Chepstow is situated at the confluence of the rivers, Severn and Wye.

Until the reign of Henry VIII Monmouth was part of the kingdom of Gwent, South Wales, and the Welsh language is spoken there widely even to the present day.

Monmouthshire is technically an English county but it is often for administrative purposes and sometimes by legislation, treated as part of Wales or grouped with some of the Welsh counties. This has been due partly to the similarity of its development to that of the adjoining county of Glamorgan and partly to the fact that a large portion of its inhabitants are Welsh as to their origin, language and habits. In any historical inquiry as to the Cymric people it must be looked on as Welsh and we generally use the term Wales as including Monmouthshire.

The Eastern part of Monmouthshire was Saxon speaking in the time of Elizabeth, the Western, Welsh. In the important town of Newport, lying close to the present border of Wales, the population is largely Welsh. Surnames sufficiently distinguish between the two.

A possible explanation of the fact that the CRANDALL family became extinct in Monmouthshire and in all Great Britain surviving eventually only in the descendants of Eld. John Crandall, the Rhode Island colonist, may be found in the record of "The great overflowing of the waters or Floudes, lately happened in South Wales and many other places, wherein is described the great losses and damages that hapned thereby by the drowning of many Townes and Villages to the utter undoing of many thousands of People".

(Harleian Miscellany, Vol. 3, page 397). Tuesday January 20, 1607. "the sea being very tempestuously moved by the windes, overflowed his ordinary banks and did drown 26 Parishes". From a pamphlet entitled - "Lamentable News out of Monmouthshire, pub. 1607 in Gloucester, Somerset, Monmouth, Glamorgan and other places lying on the Bristol channel near the mouth of the River Severn. Over 500 people were drowned and there was immense damage in Chipstow, Newport, Bristol, Cardiff, Coldecot, Magor, Nasche, Goldcliff, Redwicke and other lowlying places nearby. It is possible that the Crandall families perished in this inundation to such an extent as to leave but few survivors. Rumor has it that there were other Crandalls who came to America about the time of Eld. John but careful examination of all early records fails to substantiate this tradition, furthermore examination of the ancestry of any Crandall unfailingly leads directly back to Rhode Island and Eld. John Crandall.

1. The first part of the paper discusses the importance of the study of the history of the United States. It is argued that a knowledge of the past is essential for a full understanding of the present and for the development of a sound policy for the future. The author points out that the study of history is not only a means of satisfying a natural curiosity about the past, but also a means of training the mind in the habits of critical thinking and logical reasoning.

2. The second part of the paper discusses the various methods of historical research. It is pointed out that the historian must be able to use a variety of sources, including books, documents, and artifacts, and must be able to evaluate the reliability of these sources. The author also discusses the importance of the historian's own judgment and the need for a balanced and objective approach to the study of history.

3. The third part of the paper discusses the various schools of thought in the history of the United States. It is pointed out that there have been many different views of the past, and that these views have been shaped by a variety of factors, including the interests of the ruling class, the needs of the nation, and the ideas of the time. The author argues that the study of history should be a means of understanding the past in order to better understand the present and to shape the future.

This Indenture made the first day of February, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four between J. Champlin Harison, Francis L. Harison, Anna M. Harison and Penelope M. N.Y. made a will May 28, 1828 and mentions wife Christian and a daughter Eunice who married a Crandall who might be the parents of William Lusk Crandall.

Also we have a W. L. Crandall who was editor of the Syracuse Standard and Onondaga Democrat in the issue of Jan. 21, 1853. In the Standard is an account relating the fact that Mr. Crandall rang the bell in the First Pres. Church that started the riot which has gone down in history as the "Jerry Rescue". A colored slave known as William Henry, but called "Jerry", it was on the morning of Oct. 1, 1852 during the New York State fair when the streets were crowded that Jerry was whisked away to Canada. Dr. Alfred Mercer, left in his will a provision that every five years, the Onondaga Historical Association would commemorate the "Jerry Rescue".

No attempt has been made here to distinguish between the various spellings but no better proof is needed for the correct way to spell the name than that given by our immigrant ancestor in his own signature in the lithoprinted copy under date of March 11, 1669, of his letter to the Governor of Rhode Island found elsewhere in this book. Many people have written in to ask why their name was spelled differently than mine, the answers end many and varied, perhaps the most common was due to the illiteracy of the times, for instance, when a man appeared before the board to register but didn't know how to spell it, the registrar wrote it the way it sounded to him, either, Crandall, Crandell, Crandol, Crandel, Crandle, Crandal, or Kindle. Another instance was during the first census when the census taker spelled the name to suit himself. Several have changed the spelling due to some family disagreement, and still others because they favored some special spelling and for no other reason, but luckily we have uncovered the original signature of Elder John Crandall.

It has been the intent of the compiler to make a complete and comprehensive index and one that will be easy to follow, sparing no amount of time and pains, to say nothing of the extra expense to enable you to turn directly to the required name you are seeking. To do this he has given the full name and middle initial followed in parenthesis the name of the father, in many genealogies the first name only is given followed by the page numbers, take for instance, we have well over 400 by the name of John Crandall, now suppose you wanted a certain John you would have to look thru the 400 pages to find the one required name.
